KENDALL'S 82 TOPS FIELD AT TRENTON

Proal, Also of Deal, Shoots an 83—J. J. Beadle Is Late Entry

IN QUALIFYING ROUND

By SANDY McNICLICK
Trenton, N. J., April 28.—P. W. Kendall, of Deal, led the morning qualifying round in the first invitation golf tournament of the Trenton Country Club here today with a neat card of 82. He probably would have had a better score had he not gotten into the water on the fourth hole, it taking him a 7 before he got started on his way eleventhward.

Kendall's card:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82

Two late entries to arrive for the tournament were J. J. Beadle, of Cedarbrook, Philadelphia, and Frank Dyer, of Upper Mount Clair, N. J., one of New York's leading golfers. Both arrived shortly after noon.

Maxwell's card follows:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82

There were many late entrants, bringing the total close to 150 in the real golf tournament in the 1921 season.

Early scores below as follows:
J. H. Lambert, Trenton, 42 44 86
W. A. Basie, Spring Lake, 41 45 86
W. J. Lewis, Trenton, 42 44 86
Wm. Dickinson, Trenton, 44 44 88
H. C. Maxwell, Trenton, 44 44 88
E. J. Rose, Trenton, 44 44 88
E. J. Seaman, Trenton, 43 45 88
J. J. Beadle, Trenton, 42 47 89

The class of the field was not due to fade off until this afternoon, when the many star players of the Jersey, Philadelphia and Metropolitan golf belts got going in the p. m. for the gold medal offered the player making the lowest score to qualify.

The tournament was not Trenton's first, but it also opened up the Northern link-up season. The course was wonderful shape and everyone keen to be off.

The Philadelphia contingent slated to go away this afternoon was headed by Edward C. Clary, winner of the Old York Road tourney last year. Clary has played Trenton in low figures and today he was close for the medal.

Clary was followed by a number of national stars in Rudy Knepper, a Western district champion, and J. Simpson Dean, the Atlanta premier.

The above named had to compete against Maxwell, Horace Cook, Harold Harvey, Chester Maxwell and other Trenton stars, as well as Pierre Proal, W. S. H. and other New York leaders.

Besides the medals offered today, there are $1500 worth of prizes offered. The latter goes to the first flight winner, and a thirteen-piece silver ten set to the second flight winner.

PLAN RELAY CARNIVAL
Victrix C. C. Will Stage Big Meet in June
A relay carnival will be staged by the Victrix Catholic Club on June 25. The big list of open handicap events include the 100, 220, 440, 880, one mile and three mile races, 220 low hurdles, high jump, broad jump and shot-put. An open one-mile relay for clubs and schools and a medley relay, closed to high and prep schools, will also be staged. In the latter event the men will run the 220, 440, 880 and finish with the mile.

Silver loving cups for first, second and third places and four team prizes have been donated, along with individual cups to the men on teams finishing first and second in the relays. "Andy" Hiler, who is officiating the affair, will send out about four hundred entries blanks this week.

Golf Divots

The Winter Stone League will hold its final meeting in this series tonight when J. Wood Platt will be crowned as the champion for triumph in the British amateur championship. Platt sails Saturday.

The report that Jim Deane is all out of sorts and may not be able to go abroad is not true. He is at Pelham this week, when the White Star scored a sweetened 69.

Mrs. J. Wallace Turnbull executed a trust agreement with the Trenton Country Club on Monday. To make an approach to the eighth green, off the green and the ball bounced into the hole. The ball was in the hole.

Putts are going to be missed this season as usual, and Mrs. Walter Page is one who can testify as she nabbed a little fellow at the last against Miss Bell.

Mrs. Laree played a midsummer chip shot at the short fourth. Her tee shot stayed to the right, but her out drive was just the right touch and direction, giving her a two-foot putt for par, which she got.

Among those who will attend the golf meeting to be held next week at Huntington Valley will be Howard DeLott, R. Mays, of Hill School, who is greatly interested in the Eastern Amateur championship to be held at Merion May 23-25. Mr. Mays will give the delegates to the schoolboys in their clubs for the event.

Tournaments are now well upon us. The Trenton Club has just held its 10th annual tournament. The real, honest-to-goodness Philadelphia district opening.

Whitemarsh Country Club will stage a "wholesome" tourney on Saturday afternoon. A large silver cup pocket will be the top prize, a smaller one the second prize. The club party benefit yesterday, while hubby did his golfing.

Boots and Saddle
The Glen Riddle Purse and the Madonna Purse are the features at Havre de Grace today. King Thrush will be well liked in the Glen Riddle, with the Redstone stable entry and Sundial II dividing attention. His Choice appears to have the class in the Madonna, although disappointing the last time out. Polly Ann and Fruit Cake also are good ones.

Horses in other races at the top of their form are: First, Vendor, Miles S., Athgarven; second, Shandon, Cherubino, Black Top; fifth, Penelope. Mumbo Jumbo, Lucy Kate, sixth, Koly-I-Noor, Salute, Iron Boy; seventh, Matler, Austral, Mormon Elder.

The Hinata Stakes for $3000, to which Mrs. Clarence Lebus will add a trophy, a pouring feature at Lexington, will be decided today. Startle, the first progeny of Starhawk, only has to run back to her race on opening day, when she set a new track record, to win. The Keen entry and Fair Phantom should be the contenders for the short ends of the purse. Other races provide high-class entries. Horses in those events ready for winning efforts are: First, Inquiry, Jim Daisy, Ethel Grey; second, Commander McMeekin, Lugo, Fast Trial; third, King Fisher, Simpleton, Kallipolis; fourth, Green Grass, Midway, Sewell Combs; sixth, Ace High, Sir Thomas Keen, Rotherton; seventh, Inspector Hughes, Brynlemah, Shilling.

Havana racing will be resumed at Jamaica, N. W., on May 6.

Columbian, seven-year-old daughter of Garry Harriman-Navarre's Hope, which Albert Simons has retired to the stud, won thirteen races out of thirty-eight starts during her racing career and won $19,045.

At the conclusion of the present meeting at Havre de Grace Saturday fourteen carloads of horses will be shipped to the Jamaica track, a number of others will go to Canada, and the remainder outside of those with stake engagements in Kentucky, will be sent to Florida.

The Redstone Stable's horses are in the best of condition. Its Sporting Blood will be in the final stride to defeat leg in the Grand Handicap Tuesday at Havre de Grace.

ARMY OF ATHLETES ARRIVE FOR RELAYS

Beginning Today and Continuing Until Tomorrow Morning, Thousands Will Check In

PENN TEAM AT SHORE

Today will be a busy one for students at the University of Pennsylvania. George W. Orton, manager of the relay games, is authority for the statement that he has sent out 3300 constant's tickets. And nearly every one, according to the same authority, has been given to an athlete or a coach. Starting this morning and continuing until the start of the first race tomorrow afternoon hundreds of athletes from all sections of the country will be arriving in this city for the twenty-seventh annual relay carnival.

Penn students have made themselves a committee of the whole to greet the visitors and hardly a train on the three railroads coming into this city will go unattended starting this morning. The host of athletes, almost equivalent to the number that performs in the Olympic games, will be quartered in the different fraternity houses, on the campus and in some cases in the dormitories. Individual students have signified their intention to divide their rooms with any visitor who is not taken care of by the fraternities.

Yesterday afternoon the second Westerner checked in at Franklin Field. He was Henry Case, the discus champion, of Kansas. He comes from the Kansas State Normal School, and in addition to throwing the javelin, is quite capable of performing in the fifty-pound weight event. He is one of the biggest men entered in the carnival. He stands 200 pounds.

Jenne, the Washington State pole vaulter, worked out again yesterday and demonstrated to a large gathering of students that he is an exceptional performer. He did well over twelve feet yesterday and bids fair to win the event if he breaks the record. Wilder, of Wisconsin, who is expected to arrive today, is reported to have done close to thirteen feet in practice, and if he shows the same kind of form tomorrow should make Jenne hustle to win.

The Penn team was given a rest yesterday with few exceptions. George Meredith and one of two distance men jogged around the track for fifteen minutes and then went into the showers. This morning the Red-and-Blue party stroled along the boardwalk in Atlantic City. This afternoon they will take a long walk out in the country and will retire early after dinner. The change is expected to do Captain Eby and his mates a world of good and fit them for the crucial races of tomorrow and Saturday. Boots Lever did not make the trip with the others, being forced to remain behind because of work in connection with the relay games.

The French team held a short workout yesterday afternoon, the shortest since their arrival in this country. Contrary to reports, they did not hold any time trials, but devoted themselves exclusively to warming up and passing the baton. Coach DeLoria announced that the team as a whole was in great shape and that he looked for them to do some excellent running tomorrow in the sprint race and on Saturday in the one-mile championship event.

A race that is claiming all sorts of attention is the 120-yard high hurdle event, in which Earl Thomson, of Dartmouth, is entered. The big Green timer topper is reported to be running in the sprint race and on Saturday in the one-mile championship event.

No-Hit Pitching Star

Alan Tarr, of West Philly All-Stars, Performs Unusual Pitching Feat

PENCOYD STARTS SATURDAY

Alan Tarr, the former West Philadelphia High School twirler, performed a pitching feat the last week that has seldom, if ever, been equaled in these parts. While on the mound for the West Philly All-Stars on Saturday against Folcroft he fanned nineteen men and on Sunday against Swedeland Professionals for the same team breezed twenty. Folcroft scored through errors, while Swedeland did not register a single run and neither team scored a hit.

Last season Tarr had numerous offers from minor league teams, but pitched for Strubbridge & Clothier. This year he hurls for Corn Exchange in the Bank League, and for the West Philly All-Stars on other occasions. Tarr is a coming pitcher and many baseball fans predict a big-league career for him. He is one of the finest prospects in the city.

Manager Rose, of the All-Stars, has a fast team to support his star hurler and has booked games with many leading teams. There are a few open dates on the schedule and any first-class home team can arrange games through Bob Rose, 724 Chestnut street.

ROTARY VS. KIWANIS GOLF
Local Business Clubs Will Grapple at Merion for Links Honors Today
Considerable of a golf event will be played today, when the Rotary Club meets Kiwanis this afternoon over the east course of the Merion Cricket Club at Ardmore avenue.

The entries of the clubs for the matches will not be announced till tea time, but each of the local business clubs has many strong players eligible to start.

Henry W. Buse is chairman of the golf committee. Golf will be the serious side of the meeting, and a luncheon and dinner are expected to retain the good humor of the contestants. Members of the two clubs have donated prizes for the winners.

Baseball fans in East Falls and Wissahickon are awaiting the opening of the season at Pencoyd Park on the River Drive Saturday afternoon, when the ironworkers clash with the Cresona Tigers, led by Steve Yerkes, formerly of the Boston Red Sox.

Pencoyd has a real manager in Jack Reynolds and he has signed a wonderful club. Against Cresona he will use Vernon Touchstone, who pitched Parkersburg Iron to the independent championship last season, and also has Pete Liebert. Magee will do the catching.

Cresona will have Kepner and Nettisahn in the points, and the former is considered the best pitcher up the state. Pencoyd plays a return game at Cresona on Sunday.

Notasame Opens May 7
Notasame Hosiery will use the grounds at I and Vantage streets, formerly the home of Harrogate, and opens the season on Saturday, May 7. The field has been put in excellent shape, and the location is regarded the best in Philadelphia.

Among those who have been signed are Comfort, of Hidesburg; Devinney, of Bethlehem Steel; Krebs, of the South Atlantic League; Richardson, of Gettysburg; Dougherty and Summers, of La Salle Stars, all of whom are well known.

There are a few open dates remaining on the schedule and any one wishing games should address Dan Mellon, 947 Cornwell street.
